Mister Donut Allergen Information

Allergy information listed here is for all 28 of the Specific Allergenic Ingredients whose display is required and allergenic ingredients classified as Equivalent to Specific Allergenic Ingredients whose display is recommended as defined in Japan's Food Labeling Act.

Please note that due to the difficulty of gathering sufficient information, we may not be able to answer inquiries regarding ingredients other than these 28 ingredients.

This allergy information is based on a study of the products' raw ingredients.

However, our shops and manufacturing plants share manufacturing processes with other products. This means there is a possibility that ingredients that are not originally used for the product may adhere to or be mixed in with the product.

Since the sensitivity to allergic substances varies from person to person and even a small amount of adherence or contamination may cause allergic reactions, customers should consult with a medical specialist and make their own judgment before purchasing our products.

*Ingredients are subject to change without notice with product and criteria updates.

*Item availability may vary by shop.

*Please check back as this allergen information is updated periodically.
